

In the Specification

Please replace the paragraph on page 11 beginning on line 10 with the following replacement paragraph showing changes.

As contemplated by the present ~~invention-disclosure~~, service node 206 is outside the local exchange carrier's network and, as such, may not receive private call information. To comply with this federal regulation, the present ~~invention-disclosure~~ uses incoming trigger 202 to remove and store the private information before the call leaves the network to go to service node 206, and restores the private call information to the call when the call hits outgoing ~~call~~ trigger 204 on its way back into the network.